Our new barber (he has been here for some weeks) is Mr. John Curtis, formerly of San Antonio. He is a young gentleman of pleasant address, and accomplished in his profession. Strict attention to business, skill in his vocation, and gentlemanly demeanor we take to be the leading constituents of an acceptable member of the tonsorial profession. We fear all of these traits have not always been exemplified by the predecessors of Mr. isducements to remain permanently with us; and in order to this, that our citizens will give him an increased patropage.
